

INFORMATION FOR USERS

- Please show your reader's ticket when entering the reading room through the turnstile. Please note that certain objects must not be brought into the reading room. Please keep quiet and turn off the sound of your mobile.

- Please order manuscripts, rare and old printed books (Rar., Res, L.sel., ESig etc.) by completing a separate yellow order slip. No more than 10 order slips may be submitted per day. The items ordered will then be available for a period of two weeks (10 working days).
- Due to legal or conservation reasons some items may not be available for consultation.

- The objects issued must be handled with great care:

- Pencils only are to be used for writing. Laptops are also allowed.

No pens or highlighters!

Readers must not write, mark, or damage a document.

- No sharp implements are allowed on the reading tables!

- The staff's instructions concerning the use of the objects must be followed at all times.

- All manuscripts, rare books and other items with fragile or delicate bindings must be consulted on the (foam) bookrests provided. Readers must not force open close-fitting bindings.

- Please clean your hands before reading (paper) manuscripts. The use of cotton gloves is recommended when touching parchment.

- Manuscripts stored in safe deposit and classified materials may only be consulted at designated reading tables. Only staff members are allowed to transport the objects to the designated tables. These manuscripts are, as a general rule, to be consulted by means of photographic reproductions; special permission from the Superintendent is required for consulting them in the original. The use of cotton gloves is obligatory; they can be obtained from the issue desk free of charge.
- Readers must not moisten fingers in order to facilitate the turning of the pages nor touch the letters or the ornaments.
- The original sequence of single leaves (fragments, modern papers, and autographs) may not be changed, even if it is obviously incorrect. Please inform the staff in the reading room in this regard. In order to prevent this delicate material from being damaged, please touch the leaves for a short period of time only. For consultation purposes, please place them on a blank sheet of white paper or on one of the cardboard pieces provided.
- The consent of the Superintendent must be sought for any kind of extraordinary use, such as the examination of watermarks by means of luminescent foil, for the copying of watermarks, the examination of script with an ultraviolet lamp, and the taking of rubbings of bindings.

- The reading room is under closed-circuit television control.
- If you leave your seat for a longer period, or for good, or at the closure of the reading room, you are asked to return all the objects in sound condition.
- Our readers may not take (digital) photos by means of their own cameras. (Digital) photographic reproductions and electrostatic print-outs from microfilm are, in general, available by order from the Photographic Department; an order may be turned down for legal or conservation reasons. Orders can be submitted via ERaTo, which is available in the reading room and on the Internet (<http://www.bsb-muenchen.de/1470.0.html>) alike. In exceptional cases, items kept in the reference library or those which can be ordered via the library's OPAC may be copied on the bookscanner situated in the entrance hall to the department, provided there are no concerns about the physical condition of the object.
- Our staff will be happy to answer any questions about the holdings and to provide a brief introduction as to how to properly work with fragile material. Readers (users) are requested to give advance notification for longer inquiries.
- Advance orders of items should be directed at least one week before the forthcoming stay either to our Online Enquiry Service account or to handschriften@bsb-muenchen.de . No more than three manuscripts may be reserved in advance.
- All the privately owned items (photocopies and books) are to be shown without being asked when leaving the reading room through the turnstile.

Department of Manuscripts and Early Printed Books
January 2017