SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The U.S. State Department Central Files are the definitive source of American diplomatic reporting on political, military, social, and economic developments throughout the world in the twentieth century. This edition consists of the Central Files for the Soviet Union for the period between 1967 and 1969. The files are arranged according to the State Department Records Classification System, February 1963–1973. The subjects from the classification system included in this edition are AID (Foreign Economic Assistance), CSM (Communism), DEF (Defense Affairs), and POL (Political Affairs and Relations). The files consist of cables and letters sent and received by U.S. diplomats and embassy personnel; reports on meetings between U.S. and foreign government officials and leaders; newspaper clippings and translations from journals and newspapers; transcripts of speeches; and reports and observations on political, military, and social affairs.

The first few documents in this edition of Central Files are from the AID category (Reel 1, frames 0001–0010); they focus on Soviet economic assistance to Middle Eastern nations and North Vietnam. Immediately following the AID file is the CSM file, composed primarily of correspondence on the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) and the 1968 Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia. This file begins on frame 0011 of Reel 1 and ends with frame 0659 on the same reel.

The DEF category begins on frame 0660 of Reel 1 and continues through frame 0782 of Reel 5. Major topics covered include the proposed Strategic Arms Limitation Talks between world nuclear powers, Soviet troop movements in Eastern European nations, and military assistance from the Soviet Union to other nations. A large portion of the documents deal with the Soviet Union's supplying of arms to India and Pakistan.

The POL category comprises the rest of this edition, starting with frame 0783 of Reel 5 and concluding at the end of Reel 24. Detailed here are the effects on U.S.-Soviet relations of various events, such as the Czechoslovakia invasion, the war in Vietnam, and the Arab-Israeli conflict. During this period, the Soviet Politburo, under the leadership of Leonid I. Brezhnev, became more active in silencing dissidents than it had been under Brezhnev's predecessor, Nikita S. Khrushchev. This issue is also a major part of the POL file, as are changes in the Soviet leadership and the celebrations for the fiftieth anniversary of the Soviet state. The Politburo topics are primarily discussed in Joint Weeka Reports (POL 2-1), weekly reports written by U.S. diplomatic personnel that provide brief summaries of both internal and foreign developments. These summaries are based on observations of U.S. officials and translations from newspapers and periodicals. Foreign developments in Weeka reports include Soviet policy toward Middle Eastern nations, Communist activities in South America, and Sino-Soviet relations.

Also available in the POL category are reports on U.S. diplomatic personnel visits to Soviet cities; biographical information on Soviet diplomatic personnel; and foreign visits and meetings by Leonid Brezhnev, Aleksei Kosygin, Andrei Gromyko, and Nikolai Podgorny. The defection of Josef Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, is a well-covered topic, as are travel controls, Soviet aircraft operations near U.S. naval units, and Soviet fishing vessels trawling in U.S. waters.

SOURCE NOTE

Microfilmed from the holdings of the National Archives, College Park, Maryland, Record Group 59: Records of the Department of State, Central Foreign Policy Files, Subject-Numeric Files, 1967–1969, for the Soviet Union (and USSR). Materials from the following Subject-Numeric File categories were included in this microfilm publication: Economic (selected), and Political and Defense. Specific subject categories include AID (all types of aid), only from the Economic Subject-Numeric File category; and CSM (Communism), DEF (Defense), INT (Intelligence), and POL (Political Affairs and Relations) from the Political and Defense Subject-Numeric File category.

EDITORIAL NOTE

The Subject-Numeric Files for February 1963 through July 1973 are arranged by subject-numeric categories, not by country. Therefore, some file folders will contain multiple subject categories. In addition, some folders will have more than one country represented by a single subject category.

LexisNexis has microfilmed all available documents relating to the subject categories listed above for the Soviet Union (USSR), excluding only exact duplicate copies of documents. In addition to the documents, LexisNexis has filmed file folders when possible. LexisNexis has microfilmed the documents as they are arranged at the National Archives. In a small number of instances, some documents have been misfiled and misclassified by the State Department. LexisNexis has included, in brackets, corrected citations for these items. The file containing the specific subject category INT had no documents for the Soviet Union. A few Document Withdrawal Sheets exist in the files, and LexisNexis has filmed them. Withdrawal sheets itemize documents that have been withdrawn from the files, due to national security restrictions, by the National Archives staff.

STATE DEPARTMENT RECORDS CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM, FEBRUARY 1963–JULY 1973

Essential to the effective administration of the State Department and its overseas posts is the management of records. In keeping with the State Department's program to improve and modernize its administrative processes, the department developed a new comprehensive records classification system in February–March 1963 (used until July 1973).

This new uniform file system enabled users to file and find material rapidly—the usefulness of recorded information being largely dependent upon the logical arrangement of records. The new system applied to both official and working files.

The new system was based on several years of research and embodied many substantial contributions made by departmental and overseas personnel. An effort had been made to provide sufficient flexibility and subject matter coverage to meet the needs of offices and posts both large and small.

A. PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The new Records Classification System embodied a uniform official file system to be used throughout the department and its overseas posts. It was intended for use by operating offices as well as by departmental and post central files operations. The new system did not apply to certain types of case files, however, such as official personnel files, security investigative files, voucher files, and so forth. Offices continued to maintain chronological files where necessary or desirable.

B. ARRANGEMENT AND CONTENT

1. Subject File Outlines

The attached file outlines [provided by LexisNexis beginning on page xv] comprise the new file system. They were arranged within seven broad subject matter areas (known earlier as classes), with each including specific subdivisions of related secondary and tertiary code symbols.

2. Special Instructions

a. International Organizations and Conferences

This system provided a special method for handling records accumulated in large quantities by offices that were primarily interested in a specific organization or conference rather than in the subject matter with which it dealt. Use of this special feature of the new file system afforded such offices a method for organizing this type of record material to meet their own reference needs within the framework of the new system. It proved of particular use to the Bureau of International Organization Affairs and to United States Missions to international organizations, such as the U.S. United Nations Delegation.

b. Commercial Officers

This instruction to the system was prepared in cooperation with the Department of Commerce for the special guidance of commercial officers in their use of the new file system. It provided for pre-coding of commercial-economic reports with the appropriate subject matter code symbols.

c. Peace Corps Representatives

This instruction to the system was prepared in cooperation with the Peace Corps for the guidance of its field representatives in records organization and maintenance. It prescribed the use of the appropriate administrative subject outlines for Peace Corps records administration.

d. U.S. Information Service (USIS)

Special subject designations were developed in cooperation with the U.S. Information Agency for use by those posts at which USIS files were maintained by the post's Central Records Unit. These designations were included in the Culture & Information subject outline.

C. TYPE OF SYSTEM

1. Subject-Numeric System

The new uniform file system was of the subject-numeric type. It was selected because of the flexibility that it provided for expansion purposes and the simplicity of file designations for marking purposes. A mnemonic symbol was selected for each of the fifty-five primary subjects for which file outlines had been developed. These symbols ranged from one to four letters in length and had been chosen because of their meaning or obvious relationship to the subject matter for which they stood. In some cases the symbol was identical with an office symbol (e.g., PPT for Passports & Citizenship, AV for Aviation (Civil)). In other cases the key letters in the primary subject constituted the symbol (e.g., CON for Consular Affairs (General), REF for Refugees & Migration, AGR for Agriculture (General)).

While many small offices used the primary subjects alone, larger offices required further breakdowns of the primary subjects for more detailed subject matter coverage. Simple serial numbers were assigned to subject breakdowns at both the secondary and tertiary level. For example, a paper relating to the subject of agricultural production in general was classified AGR 12; a paper dealing with technological advances in agricultural production was AGR 12-1. The most detailed subdivision contained no more than four digits, making for a relatively simple file designation. Sample Reel Index entries with Subject Numeric Codes are on page xxvii.

2. Use of Identical Numbers for Similar Subject

As an additional aid, the same number was assigned to similar secondary and tertiary subjects appearing in different subject file outlines. In most outlines the first five secondary subjects were standard (e.g., General Policy, Plans, and Programs; General Reports and Statistics; Organizations and Conferences; Agreements and Treaties; and Laws and Regulations). This same principle was applied to other similar or related subjects (e.g., Communist Bloc activities in aid, trade, and educational and cultural fields were assigned a “6” number—AID 6, FT 6, EDU 6, respectively; production and consumption was assigned a “12” number in the various industry outlines—AGR 12, INCO 12, PET 12).

3. Expansion of Existing Subjects

While no attempt was made to provide breakdowns for subject matter beyond the tertiary level, there were cases in which an office might want or need to subdivide a secondary or tertiary subject alphabetically by name, geographic location, or other appropriate breakdown. For example, papers relating to visits by foreign dignitaries were subdivided by name (e.g., POL 7 Visits—Adenauer); papers relating to a trade fair by location (e.g., TP 8 Fairs—Moscow); or papers relating to a thermal power project by type (e.g., FSE 12 Electric Power—Thermal).

D. SPECIAL FEATURES

1. Flexibility

Flexibility was an important feature of the uniform file system. The new system embodied an unusual amount of flexibility by providing users with several methods of arranging material according to their specific requirements. Three important areas of choice are indicated below:

a. Subject vs. Geographic Arrangement

Within each subject file outline, where appropriate, alternative ways of arranging material by subject or area/country were possible. An office interested only in a specific subject without regard to country selected the method of arrangement described above. An office that was primarily interested in specific subject matter but with a secondary concern for a geographic area or country selected the method described in Instruction “C” (Type of System). A geographic bureau or other office primarily concerned with a specific country used the method of arranging first by country and thereunder by subject described in Instruction “B” (Arrangement and Content).

b. Treatment of International Organizations and Conferences

Most offices accumulated a varying amount of material on international organizations and conferences in which the U.S. government was represented or participated. The interests of each office and its responsibility for international organization and conference activities determined the amount of record material that it accumulated and the method by which it arranged material to meet user needs.

An office that had a limited interest in such organizations and conferences and accumulated a relatively small quantity of papers probably found the “3” (Organizations and Conferences) classification within the appropriate subject outline adequate. An office that had a major interest in and responsibility for an organization such as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), or the World Health Organization (WHO), however, adopted the method of arrangement described in Instruction “D” (Special Features). Under this arrangement a special subject file by title of organization was set up under the appropriate subject outline, using any of the secondary or tertiary breakdowns as necessary.

The Bureau of International Organization Affairs, special missions to international organizations, and other offices that accumulated a large volume of material on a specific organization or conference used the special instruction method of arrangement. This instruction contained a standard list of administrative subjects common to international organizations and conferences. It also provided a unique method of arranging substantive program material relating to the specific organization or conference by selecting appropriate subjects, permitting an organizational approach within the framework of a uniform subject system.

c. Treatment of Industries and Commodities

Because of the importance of the commercial-economic reporting program, special attention was given to the treatment of industries and commodities under the new file system. Specific subject outlines were developed for the most significant industries, such as Agriculture (General), Fuels & Energy, Petroleum, Telecommunications, and Transportation. With the exception of Agriculture (General), these industry outlines covered the related commodities and products as well.

To take care of the large number of other industries, commodities, products, and specific agricultural crops, an alphabetical guide was developed as an adjunct to the Industries & Commodities (General) outline. This list, referred to as INCO (specific), provided offices with a simple method of filing materials on specific commodities, regardless of whether they were in their natural or manufactured state.

Instructions preceding the alphabetical listing offered users a choice of methods of arrangement within the list. For example, one office may have preferred to group all minerals and metals together while another office may have found it preferable to file by the specific mineral or metal.

2. Detailed Instructions (Miscellaneous)

In addition to the instructions above, alternative methods of arrangement, detailed statements, or explanations of the coverage of specific secondary and tertiary breakdowns of the primary subject were provided on an ad hoc basis. Specific cross-references to related subject matter within the same or in other outlines were also indicated. Classifiers found these instructions useful in determining proper file designations, particularly in the case of subject matter that may not have been familiar to them.

3. Country Symbols

A list of standard country abbreviations was used for coding papers relating to specific countries. See page xvii for list.

SAMPLE REEL INDEX ENTRIES

Entries in the Reel Index refer to specific documents within Confidential U.S. State Department Central Files, The Soviet Union, 1967–1969. The documents are arranged by the Subject File Outlines noted in the “State Department Records Classification System, February 1963–July 1973,” on page xv. In order to improve access to some subject categories, LexisNexis has included selected “major topics” (enclosed in brackets) on the line below the subject description. In addition, for categories that are over one hundred pages, LexisNexis has subdivided these groups by month and year.

The four-digit number on the far left represents the frame number at which a particular Subject-Numeric Classification begins. This is followed by the Subject-Numeric symbol, a country code, and an explanation of the Subject-Numeric Classification.

The samples below provide a description of the arrangement of the information in this guide.

REEL INDEX

Entries in this index refer to specific documents within Confidential U.S. State Department Central Files, The Soviet Union, 1967–1969, Part 1: Political, Governmental, and National Defense Affairs, Subject-Numeric Categories: AID, CSM, DEF, and POL. These documents are arranged by the Subject File Outlines noted in the “State Department Records Classification System, February 1963–July 1973,” on page xv. See the Sample Subject File and Reel Index entries highlighted on page xxvii for a description of the arrangement of the information in this guide. For some subjects, LexisNexis has included additional topics (enclosed in brackets) following the subject description. In addition, for those subjects numbering more than one hundred pages, LexisNexis has subdivided these groupings chronologically by month and year.

LexisNexis has filmed these documents as they are filed at the National Archives. In some cases, there are documents that appear to have been misclassified by the Department of State. LexisNexis has retained the original subject-numeric symbol and, within brackets, enclosed a different subject-numeric symbol and its accompanying subject citation. LexisNexis has microfilmed the documents as they are arranged in the original collection, even when it is apparent that a document has been misfiled.

Many reel index entries include country abbreviations. A Country Abbreviations list can be found on page xvii of this guide.

SUBJECT INDEX

The following index is a guide to the major topics in this microform publication. The first number after each entry refers to the reel, while the four-digit number following the colon refers to the frame number at which the subject begins. Hence, 13: 0001 directs the researcher to frame 0001 of Reel 13. By referring to the Reel Index, which constitutes the initial segment of this guide, the researcher will find topics listed in the order in which they appear on the film.
