Fond R-4758 Collection of documents for the period of Nazi occupation

Opis 1-2, 115 delo

Sofiia Kameneva
Director of the State Archive of Kyiv Oblast

The most informative files (fondy) on the history of World War II stored at the State Archive of Kyiv Region could nominally be divided into two large groups. The first group includes fondy of the [Communist] party and Soviet bodies on the history of World War II. These fondy are well studied and their documents have been used in numerous publications. The second group contains fondy of organizations that were created by German occupation authorities and reflect the day to day life of the Kyiv Region population in the occupied territory. These documents are just starting to be used for research and are little studied. A special place among those belongs to Fond R-4758, Kolletsia dokumentalnykh materialov perioda nemetsko-fashistskoy okkupatsii (A Collection of Documentary Materials of the Nazi Occupation Period), which contains both official documents of Soviet bodies after the liberation of the city of Kyiv and the Kyiv Region, as well as documents of the occupation authorities.

The collection was formed pursuant to Resolution No. 57 by the Kyiv Region Executive Committee of Dec. 6, 1943, "Re: Collection and Preservation of Documentary Materials of the Great Patriotic War of the Soviet People against the Nazi Invaders." The collection of these documents was kept at the State Security Committee Directorate for the Kyiv Region and was only transferred to the State Archive of the Kyiv Region in March 1964, with 42 items classified "secret." Later in 1964, another two items pertaining to the 1942-1943 period arrived from the Central State Historical Archive of the Lithuanian SSR. All of those documents became a basis for the documentary fond on the history of the temporary Nazi occupation of populated areas in the Kyiv Region. In 1988, in accordance with Order No. 77 of Sept. 18, 1987, by the Chief Archival Administration of the Ukrainian SSR, the fond documents were partially declassified, and all of the fond documents were finally declassified in May 1990.

The Fond contains two opisi and 115 items (dela) from the 1941-1949 period.

The first opis contains 61 items, including documents of the occupation authorities: personal records of Kyiv Region residents transported to Germany; records of persons who served in the Nazi police; personal records and CVs of members of the German Youth of Ukraine organization; personal dossiers of employees of medical establishments; work cards and passports of people who had worked in Germany. The majority of these documents are processed on standard printed forms in German. Many personnel documents include photos.

Documents pertaining to the partisan and underground organizations in the Kyiv Region that operated on the territory of the occupied Kyiv Region can be singled out as a separate group in the first opis. Item No. 57 contains a collection of information concerning the activity of partisan groups in the territory of the Skvirsk,<sup>1</sup> Baryshevsk,<sup>2</sup> Tetievsk,<sup>3</sup> Yekaterinopol,<sup>4</sup> Vasilkov,<sup>5</sup> Vishe-Dubechansk,<sup>6</sup> Volodarsk,<sup>7</sup> Lisyansk,<sup>8</sup> Borodyansk,<sup>9</sup> Ivankovsk,<sup>10</sup> Pereyaslavl-Khmel'nitsky<sup>11</sup> and Velio-Polovetsk<sup>12</sup> districts. The structure of information about the activity of partisan groups was determined by Directive No. 147 (Nov. 14, 1947) of the Ministry of Internal Affairs and contained the following elements: name of the group; family name, first name, patronymic and character reference of group commander, his deputy, commissar and chief of staff; group battle formation; background information on the group; the group's combat activity; a record of combat operations; heroes of the partisan war; the enemy's combat operations against the group; disbandment of the group; party-political work. Attached to that was information about the results of the group's combat operations, a list of group members; a list of persons who reported partisans to occupation authorities; a list of secret apartments and persons who helped partisans.

Item No. 51, opis 1 contains a summary of the activity of the Borodyansk partisan group as part of the Kyiv combined unit (unit commander, Khitrchenko) that operated in the Kyiv, Borodyansk and Dymersk districts. The group's numerical size increased from six men as of Aug. 1, 1943 to 158 as of Nov. 13, 1943, which was due to its active operations and the approach of the front<sup>13</sup>.

Opis 1 documents contain factual material about the participants of the partisan and underground movement: a list of commanders of partisan units, detachments and groups that operated in the territory of the Kyiv region during the temporary German occupation of 1941-1944, numbering 99 people<sup>14</sup>; a list of underground hit-and-run groups with the name of their leaders<sup>15</sup>; a list of partisan groups of the Kyiv region<sup>16</sup>; basic facts about the number of “individuals, participants in the fight against the Nazi invaders outside underground and partisan groups”<sup>17</sup>.

Opis 2 documents are chronological lists of facts pertaining to the temporary occupation of populated areas in the Kyiv region by the Nazis and their liberation by the Red Army. There are factsheets from a total of 53 districts in the Kyiv region that served as a basis for Khronologicheskiiy spravochnik o vremennoy okkupatsii nemetsko-fashistskimi zakhvatchikami naselennykh punktov Kievskoy oblasti i osvobozhdenii ikh Krasnoy Armiyei [Chronological Reference Book on the Temporary Occupation of Populated Areas in the Kyiv Region by the Nazi Invaders and Their Liberation by the Red Army].<sup>18</sup> The Chronological Reference Book is also based on briefings from the Soviet Information Bureau and eyewitness accounts. In all, over 3,800 documents were used in the preparation of this Reference Book, which were first transferred to the Archival Department of the Ministry of Internal Affairs in the Kyiv Region and then to the State Archive of the Kyiv Region. The Chronological Reference Book contains 2,186 factsheets, including 135 about railway stations and 23 about river docks.

Each chronological factsheet provides information according to a certain scheme: (1) the date a populated area was occupied by the Nazi invaders and liberated by the Red Army; (2) the number of people sent to forced labor in Germany, as well as the number of Soviet citizens tortured to death; (3) the number of buildings burned down and destroyed by Nazi occupiers; (4) the activity of Soviet partisans during the temporary Nazi occupation. In addition, the number of industrial enterprises, machine-tractor stations, state farms and the number of residents according to the 1939 census was indicated next to each geographic name of a populated area.

All chronological factsheets are arranged in the alphabetical order of the populated area as part of each district. Below the name of each district, its size is indicated in square kilometers, as of June 1, 1940. Attached to the factsheets are lists of residents of a particular populated area who were transported to Germany, as well as lists of citizens shot or hanged by the Nazi invaders.

The authenticity and legal validity of the documents is predetermined by the fact that all the factsheets use the letterhead of city, district and rural soviets [councils]; are attested by the signatures of council chairman and secretary; and are stamped with an official seal.

The fond documents contain extensive factual material about the damage caused to citizens, state enterprises and agencies, collective farms, and nongovernmental organizations. In his remarks at a meeting of top officials at the Reichskommissariat on Aug. 26-28, 1942, Reichskommissar Erich Koch said: "There is no such thing as a free Ukraine. The goal of our work here is to ensure that Ukrainians work for Germany; we are not here to make these people happy. Ukraine can give Germany what it does not have."<sup>19</sup> During the occupation of the city of Kyiv by the Nazi invaders, 940 buildings of state and public organizations were destroyed with a total area of about 1 million square meters, including the building of the Ukrainian SSR Supreme Soviet and the Central Post Office; 1,742 communal buildings; 3,600 private houses, as a result of which about 200,000 Kyiv city residents found themselves without a roof over their heads.<sup>20</sup> A special commission established that approximately 195,000 Soviet citizens were shot, tortured to death or executed in the city of Kyiv, including about 100,000 people in Babi Yar; over 68,000 POWs and civilians in Darnitsa; 25,000 POWs in an antitank ditch near the Syretsk camp; 800 mental patients in the Kirillov hospital; about 500 civilians at the Kyiv-Pechersk Lavra; and 400 civilians at the Lukyanovsk Cemetery.<sup>21</sup>

The fond documents are a valuable source of information for the study of the tragic history of the Kyiv region during the occupation period. This collection of documents can be used as a basis for thematic surveys on individual districts of the region during the period of Nazi occupation, which will be useful for researchers and all those interested in the history of World War II.
